French-Canadians in Van of Korean Force

French-Canadians of the Second Battalion, Royal 22nd Regiment, fall in on the parade ground at Fort Lewis, Wash., after their arrival there yesterday to begin training. The men, members of the 25th Infantry Brigade, are part of Canada's 10,000-man special force for United Nations overseas service.

Freighter Reports Man Lost

Wireless messages reporting a man overboard from the Dutch freighter Ss. Utrecht, were picked up by the Dominion wireless station at Gordon Head, at 3:30 p.m. yesterday.

The radio calls, asking all ships in the area to be on the lookout, gave the missing mariner's position as 48.61 latitude north, 125.09 longitude west.

This is a point just off Cape Flattery, directly south of Nitinat Lake on Vancouver Island.

The Dutch ship had just completed loading lumber at Port Alberni and at the time of the mishap was heading for Coos Bay, Oregon.

RELATED MESSAGES
 The Gordon Head station relayed all the messages to vessels believed to be in the vicinity.

The Utrecht, itself conducting a search of the Pacific area, was believed to be bound eventually for a destination in Western Europe.

The man was still missing late last night.

Midair Crash Of Bombers Kills 13 Men

TUCSON, Ariz., Nov. 16 (AP).—Thirteen airmen were killed and ten survived a collision of two United States Air Force bombers over the desert 50 miles west of here today.

David Elvin Pivota, public information officer at Davis-Monthan air force base here, said the two four-engine planes, a B-29 bomber and a B-50 bomber, plunged to the ground five miles north of the Papago Indian village of Siltukey.

Robert Moore, reporter for the Arizona Daily Star, who flew to the crash scene, said:

"I think the planes collided during a refueling operation. I picked up a piece of hose about 200 yards from the main crash area. To me it looked like a hose that would be used in a refueling operation."

T.L.C. Parley Ousts City Man As Ban on Communists Applied

The Trades and Labor Congress of Canada (A.F.L.) ban on Communism was applied yesterday to a well-known Victoria trade unionist, Elgin Nelsh, of the United Fishermen and Allied Workers' Union, president of the union local here, was refused admittance to the T.L.C. provincial conference now being held in Victoria.

Nelsh, the provincial executive ruled, admitted he was, and still is, active in Victoria Peace Council work.

Such activity, according to executive chairman R. K. Gervin, puts Nelsh under the Congress "blacklist" as a member of the Labor Progressive Party, or any person espousing Communism, or advocating the violent overthrow of our institutions.

"The Trades and Labor Congress convention repudiated such counsels, and said the congress will have nothing to do with them. Any grounds for appeal will have to be referred to the president and executive council of the congress," Gervin said.

Robert McCulloch, who took the chair for the Thursday afternoon session of the convention, further clarified the congress stand.

"The Victoria Peace Council is connected with the Stockholm Appeal, and the convention did deal with it. The delegates passed a resolution condemning the Appeal, and

"In a signed statement last night Mr. Nelsh bitterly condemned the council and its action in refusing him a seat in yesterday's meeting. 'Brother Gervin knows very well there is no clause in the T.L.C. constitution which forbids members or delegates from joining such organizations as the Victoria Peace Council,' he said."

Gervin quoted this amendment to the Congress constitution, passed at the recent national convention, as grounds for Nelsh's exclusion. The same clause was used Wednesday to bar Homer Stevens, a Vancouver representative of the United Fishermen and Allied Workers' Union, and Peter Whittaker, Vancouver Civic Workers' Union delegate.

"The Trades and Labor Congress convention repudiated such counsels, and said the congress will have nothing to do with them. Any grounds for appeal will have to be referred to the president and executive council of the congress," Gervin said.

"When questions such as this are asked, I'm afraid that the civil liberties of all of us are threatened," he said.

"I think that any charges against Nelsh should be laid, and a trial set up to deal with them," Hines held.

Another defender of Nelsh was Charles Stewart, Vancouver Street Railwaymen's Union delegate.

"I believe the executive overstepped the bounds of common decency in this matter. If this keeps up, we'll be eliminated one by one in piecemeal fashion, until this meeting will be attended by mechanical robots," he said.

The conference continues today, and convention business is expected to be concluded tonight.

ALL ABOARD

By G. E. Mortimore

There was a bit of excitement down on the collective farm a while ago. It wasn't a Soviet hog-calling contest. Nor was it the biennial visit of the Commissar for Potato Bug Control.

The comrades were holding a fashion show. According to a recent news story, they did the thing the proletarian way. The show wasn't in a carpeted, drape-hung salon, heavy with perfume and the chatter of languid women, but in the main square of a collective farm in the Ukraine.

Workers crowded in from neighboring farms to see dresses, coats, children's wear. They took special interest in overalls, smocks and such, the Russian weekly Ogoniok reported.

Some of them criticized the cut of the models and made suggestions—"for instance, more pockets in overalls and slippers better located on some garments."

Ogoniok said Soviet fashions were home-grown, and owed nothing to the decadent West, where dresses were "objects of luxury." Clothes had to be practical.

Although all enterprises are state-run, newspapers and magazines are full of advertisements plugging different cosmetics and dress lines. Yet "the average Soviet woman is still a mess," because clothes are so dear. A cheap rayon dress costs 270 roubles, about half an average worker's monthly wage.

Here is a crumb of dialogue recorded on one of our hidden microphones at the fashion show. The speakers are Olga, lady blacksmith on the collective farm, and her husband Ivan, a barnyard helper:

Olga: I hope they have something new in overalls, comrade. I haven't a living in wear to the Workers' and Peasants' Frolic in Minsk next November.

Ivan: Watch your elbows, comrade wife. You are pushing me against the pig-pen.

Olga: I saw the sweetest little pair of dungarees yesterday in the window of the Workers' and Peasants' Garment Dispensary. Only 190 roubles.

Ivan: Where are you going to get 190 roubles, comrade wife?

Olga: From you.

Ivan: Cease that counter-revolutionary talk, comrade wife. You know that in the glorious Soviet Union every worker has sufficient, and women can buy their own clothes. It is only in corrupt America that the women have so little to wear that the police send them home from the beaches in case they should die of cold in public and create a bad impression among visitors.

Olga: Silence! Here comes the first mannequin.

Ivan: I hate to mention it, comrade wife, but you are standing on my toes and crushing them.

Olga: Those red overalls are stunning, aren't they, comrade?

Ivan: It is fitting that the women's overalls should be cut the same as the men's, since workers of both sexes are equal in the glorious USSR.

Olga: I do not like the location of the slippers over the pockets. In fact I do not like slippers at all, comrade husband. They are a bourgeois refinement and a waste of metal which might otherwise be used to make guns to kill enemies of the people and enforce peace.

Ivan: I know very well why you do not like slippers on the pockets, comrade. They make a sound which wakes me when you try to remove money from my pockets in the dormitory.

Olga: Be still! Trotskyite saboteur! I will teach you to make false accusations against a loyal worker of the Soviet Union. I lift you up, so...

Ivan: No, no, comrade wife. Don't throw me in the pig-pen. The mud is a foot deep in there. Please, please! I will do anything. I will give you all my soap coupons. Help! Blub-blub.

Olga: Thus we treat enemies of the people. Oh, I must get that darling welder's mask, and that cute asbestos jacket for morning wear at the forge. My wardrobe is really in rags.

Says Masses "Driven" Into Korean Adventure

NEW YORK, Nov. 16 (AP)—Nationalist China's T. T. Tsiang yesterday charged that the Chinese masses are being driven into "un-Chinese" adventures in Korea, Tibet and Indo-China in the interests of the Soviet Union and Prime Minister Stalin.

He told the U.N. Security Council the last thing the Chinese people want to do is fight in Korea, Tibet or Indo-China.

As he spoke, President Truman told a press conference that the United States "never at any time entertained any intention to carry hostilities into China."

Russia's Jakob Malik said he would veto a six-power resolution calling for withdrawal of the Red Chinese army from Korea.

Malik said the resolution is based on illegal actions of the Security Council in ordering U.N. forces into Korea.

Confronted with this impasse, Ernest A. Gross, United States delegate, read into the record Truman's pledge on not carrying hostilities into China.

Tsiang urged the council to approve the six-power resolution.

Tsiang called the Chinese Communist chairman, Mao Tse-tung, the "junior partner" in the "imperial firm of Stalin and Mao, a firm organized for the specific purpose of world imperialism."

"When you keep in mind the simultaneous invasion of Tibet and the substantial aid given to the Communists in Indo-China, you have at least an outline of the objectives of the Chinese Communists," Tsiang said.

Mustangs Due In West Soon

EDMONTON, Nov. 16 (CP)—First delivery of Mustang fighter planes to RCAF units in Western Canada is expected in the next few days, officials of Northwest Air Command announced today.

Announcement that the planes were being bought from the United States was made recently by Defence Minister Claxton.

DIRECT FLIGHT

The aircraft will be flown by RCAF pilots direct from Burbank, Calif., to reserve squadrons in Vancouver, Calgary and Winnipeg. The number of planes involved was not known here.

Some pilots from each squadron have taken special courses at Rivers, Man., in preparation for the planes, and will instruct other members of their units.

The Mustang is a propeller-equipped plane capable of speeds of about 400 miles an hour. It is a close-support fighter. Besides machine guns, it carries bombs and rockets during the World War. It has also seen action in Korea.

It is the Book of Common Prayer printed for the Church of England in Canada for Arctic missions.

McDowell—who is Irish—said he had to memorize the 12 Eskimo characters, each of which can be used four different ways, before he started.

The book was prepared by a committee composed of missionaries to the Eskimos. Bishop D. B. Marsh, Bishop of the Arctic, had an active part in its production. The printing run was 5,000 for homes and churches in Eastern Arctic.

The new Book of Common Prayer is a revision and an addition to the old published 40 years ago.

The Bishop said 98 per cent of Eskimos will be able to read the new book. The language, he said, is "simpler than English."

A downpour of rain set a record at Eugene in Western Oregon and sent some small streams over their banks.

The area from La Grande, Ore., to Walla Walla, Wash., suffered most from the wind, which surpassed hurricane force in gusts up to 81 miles an hour.

Some $50,000 damage was reported at Walla Walla, where 200 trees were uprooted and fell on automobiles and homes.

The wind lifted a grain elevator and blew it across the Walla Walla.

A sister of Rev. Romano Macchiotti, an Italian priest who was on the largely-Canadian passenger list, said the unknown passenger was a six-month-old baby—too young to be on the passenger list and traveling without a ticket.

There was no information who the child's parents were.

A list at Champlain Airport in Rome had indicated there were 58 aboard the Montreal-bound plane that crashed Monday night on craggy Mont L'Ombre in the French Alps.

Irish Printer Ends Job In Eskimo

TORONTO, Nov. 16 (CP)—Printer J. M. McDowell of the United Church of Canada Publishing House is breathing easier today. He has just finished setting type for a 598-page book—in Eskimo.

Learn Infant Crash Victim

CROIX DE LA PIGNE, France, Nov. 16 (AP)—Postman Eugene Pelissier, a member of 10th first rescue team to reach the crashed "Canadian Pilgrim," said tonight there was a 50th person aboard the ill-fated plane.

A sister of Rev. Romano Macchiotti, an Italian priest who was on the largely-Canadian passenger list, said the unknown passenger was a six-month-old baby—too young to be on the passenger list and traveling without a ticket.

There was no information who the child's parents were.

A list at Champlain Airport in Rome had indicated there were 58 aboard the Montreal-bound plane that crashed Monday night on craggy Mont L'Ombre in the French Alps.

Most Rev. Maurice Roy, Archbishop of Quebec, gave last blessings of the Roman Catholic Church to 17 identified victims of the tragedy.

West Strengthens Berlin Defences

BERLIN, Nov. 16 (CP)—The Western Allies erected new safeguards here today against surprise aggression from the East, and disclosed that a hitherto secret American radar screen, backed by jet fighter patrols, had passed its first tests.

The bulwarking of West Berlin was illustrated in three actions:

1. Britain, the United States and France decided to equip and train the 12,800-man West Berlin police force with machine-guns and automatic rifles of French make so the force could join Western troops in resisting any invader from street to street and house to house.

2. The British military moved eight 33-ton comet tanks to West Berlin to replace light armored cars. The tanks pack 77-millimetre guns.

3. The United States started building a new regiment here with the arrival of 200 troops comprising a headquarters company.

Allied forces now numbering about 10,000 will be increased to about 12,000 by the end of the year. The result will be a combined Allied-German force equal to more than two divisions. American officers calculate that, with the new weapons and co-ordinated planning, such a force would be able to pin down an enemy three or four times its size.

Military units of the East German Communist police, trained with tanks and artillery, number about 50,000. The Soviet army in East Germany, however, is five or six times that size.

The disclosure of the radar network, which charts the approach of any aircraft, came from Frankfurt. The first test came when a Soviet hospital plane carrying the ailing French Communist leader, Maurice Thorez, from Paris to Moscow for medical treatment flew over West Germany Saturday. Radar picked up the plane and a jet fighter was sent to investigate.

LONDON (CP)—As Proprietor Jack Hart watched flames destroy his fish and chip store a fire insurance agent handed him a card. "That's what I call a fine example of business initiative," said Hart.

Candidates Seeking Civic Posts

KENNETH L. LEEMING

MILLARD H. MOONEY

Two men who will be seeking public office during coming elections are shown above. Mr. Leeming is seeking to fill one of two city vacancies on Greater Victoria School Board while Mr. Mooney is a candidate for election to City Council.

Newcomers to Politics

Mooney, Leeming Enter Civic Election Picture

Two newcomers to civic politics threw their hats into the ring yesterday. Millard H. Mooney, 363 Robertson Street, announced himself as a candidate for City Council.

Kenneth L. Leeming, 1237 Bond Street, declared he would contest one of the two city vacancies on the Greater Victoria School Board to be created through the expiration of the terms of Trustees A. I. Curtis and E. H. Carey.

Mr. Mooney operates an auto-body repair business in Victoria and Duncan.

PRAIRIE-BORN

Born in Weyburn, Sask., November 4, 1906, Mr. Mooney lived in Regina and Edmonton before coming to Victoria. At the age of 21 he went to work for General Motors Corp. in their auto-body shop in Regina. He went to Edmonton in 1931 to join the staff of Edmonton Motors. In 1935, Mr. Mooney came to Victoria and worked for The Motor House until 1940 when he left to open his own business, Mooney's Auto Body Shop.

Mr. Mooney is married, has two sons aged 18 and a seven-year-old daughter.

SPORTS-MINDED

A keen sportsman, Mr. Mooney has sponsored baseball, basketball and hockey teams in Victoria. He is a member of the executive of the Victoria Lions Club, a member of the Fraternal Order of Eagles and serves on the executive of Boy Scout headquarters in Victoria. He is vice-president of the Victoria branch of the Garage and Motor Trades Association and vice-president of the Capital City Speakers' Club. He has taken active part in Community Chest campaigns.

He was a member of the industrial board of the Chamber of Commerce for two years.

Mr. Mooney is a member of Fairfield United Church.

ROUND PRACTICES

Stating he is a heavy taxpayer himself, Mr. Mooney declared he favored sound economic practices in city government.

Mr. Leeming was born in Victoria November 25, 1907, and received his education here.

In 1925 he went to work for the Royal Trust Company and is now employed by that firm's estate department.

Mr. Leeming has also been active in Community Chest campaigns. He is a member of the Britannia Branch of the Canadian Legion. He is a member of the board of managers of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church.

WORLD WAR VET

A veteran of three years' service with the Royal Canadian Artillery during the World War, Mr. Leeming is married and has two children, an 11-year-old boy and a four-year-old girl.

Mr. Leeming is a member of St. James Douglas Parent-Teacher Association and is keenly interested in all phases of school work.

He stated the keynote of his approach to the problem of school administration was "maximum results with reasonable expense."

Liquor Charge Results In $300 Fine for Chinese

A Chinese was fined $300 in city police court yesterday on a charge of keeping liquor for sale contrary to the Government Liquor Act.

He was Lee Ming, 538 Fisgard Street. He was represented in court by Patrick Sinnott.

Evidence of police officers disclosed that a search of the premises at 538 Fisgard Street uncovered a pint of rum and five other assorted bottles of liquor.

Roy Johnson and William I. L. Todd, 15 Pilot Street, were remanded to Monday on bicycle theft charges. Both pleaded guilty. Magistrate Henry Hall remanded them pending the report of a probation officer.

Det. Fearon Woodburn told the court that two bicycles were allegedly taken from in front of St. Barnabas Church. He said that Todd had got in touch with a second-hand dealer the next day and sold one of the machines for $8.

Robert L. Dyke was fined $35 for failing to be in possession of a driver's licence.

John H. Pollard, 2135 Blackwood Street, was fined $25 and received a one-month suspension of his driver's licence when he was convicted on a charge of dangerous driving.

The charge arose out of an accident September 18 at the intersection of Bay and Shelbourne Streets.

Court was told that Pollard had lost his job because of the number

P.P.C.L.I. Christmas Fund To Be Aided by "Bond" Sale

Plans for canvassing in aid of the Princess Patricia's In Korea Christmas Fund were announced yesterday by Brigadier W. G. Colquhoun, chairman of the newly-formed organization.

Fund representatives will canvass banks and business and Government offices for donations in the form of subscriptions to "fictitious bonds," Brigadier Colquhoun said.

Campaign objective is $2,000 and "more if we can get it."

Heading the drive together with the brigadier, are Lieut.-Col. Macgregor Macintosh and Capt. George Harrison, all former officers of the famous regiment.

The Mayor's office has been made available to receive donations to the fund.

Although the drive has not yet officially started, gifts yesterday totalled more than $100, Brigadier Colquhoun said.

A well-known shogun enthusiast himself, the brigadier suggested that city sportsmen might each subscribe the price of two boxes of shogun "in view of the fact that 90 per cent of those boys overseas are duckshooters and there'll be just that many more ducks this year for those who are at home."

OLD STUFF

An eagle-eyed citizen wondered why the weather vane at St. John's Church was leaning over in a dangerous manner. Police investigated. The result: It's been that way since 1912 and perfectly safe into the bargain.

SPECIAL MEETING

All members of the Chamber of Commerce—industrial bureau—have been asked to attend a special meeting in the chamber board room Monday, to start at 4:30 p.m.

The meeting is to be held under the auspices of "A" and "B" divisions of the industrial research committee.

In announcing the meeting, Secretary J. R. Davies points out that members of the research committee are "in the midst of investigating various factors which affect industry in Victoria. Their research has now reached a most interesting stage."

MILK BURSARY

The Victoria Labor Council (V.L.C.) will ask City Council to "do everything in its power" to persuade the Federal Government to subsidize production and distribution of whole milk. It was decided at the council's monthly meeting.

Delegates said they felt milk price increases would deprive children of the community of a basic food.

Decision to approach City Council on the matter followed an address by Dan Radford, president of the B.C. Federation of Labor and regional C.L.C. director.

Advice to Equilmalt residents: Better get that road and poll tax paid up—the Equilmalt Police Department warned yesterday that they will start to issue summonses for failure to pay the taxes in the near future.

SEERS REZONING A. C. Gardner, 235 Howe Street, yesterday requested council to rezone property which he owns at the southwest corner of Bella and Catherine Streets from "single family dwelling" to "commercial."

URGES DRIVE FOR CANADA TO PREPARE The Equilmalt Branch, Canadian Legion, has urged the Provincial and Dominion Commands to press for implementation by the Federal Government of the Legion's stand for total preparedness.

Statement of policy by Government spokesmen that conscription would not be introduced was cited in a resolution passed at a meeting in the club rooms. This followed, by two months, adoption of the Legion's call for an all-out Canadian war effort.

The branch stressed that most democratic countries have some form of conscription in effect. In the face of Russia's standing army of 4,000,000 in 5,000,000 men and an expenditure for rearmament of $50,000,000,000, even more than the United States.

"Only through complete preparedness," the resolution charged, "may another terrible war be averted."

ous remains in his case. This was taken into consideration by the magistrate in passing sentence.

George J. Edwards was fined $35 on a charge of careless driving. The magistrate recommended that he receive a further driver's test before his licence is reinstated.

Bell Ringing Criticized At Victoria West Church

A Victoria West resident has complained to Mayor Percy George about "unnecessary noise" on Sunday mornings caused by the prolonged ringing of the bell at Wesley Victoria West Church on Fullerton Avenue.

J. F. McNaught, 553 Raynor Avenue, in a letter to the mayor, has asked "assistance to curtail... an infringement on the rights of people living in this district."

"This bell rings first at 9:30 every Sunday morning, again at 10 and a further tolling at 10:30," stated Mr. McNaught. "I have every respect for the church and object to no man's belief, but I do object to having my sleep broken every Sunday morning at 9:30 by the ringing of the bell over 100 times at that hour."

COUNTED THE RINGS Mr. McNaught said that on Sunday, November 12, he heard the church bell ring 117 times at 9:30 a.m. and 106 times at 10 a.m.

"Surely something can be done about this when the city has an ordinance about people blowing their automobile horns unnecessarily and restrictions at other hours," continued Mr. McNaught. "Surely people don't need three different calls to go to church or Sunday school if they have the desire or wish to attend a place of worship. Turning on the radio or a phone call will give them the correct time. I am sure the larger churches in the downtown area do not abuse their privilege."

"This may appear an unusual request," he added, "but I can assure you I am only asking for something within reason and fair play."

Take the "Old" Out of Old Age Assistance

AGE is so relative a matter it is time a new deal was invoked for elderly people. Statisticians tell us 18 years have been added to the average life-span within recent decades. What by the count of years was once considered old is no longer so in quite the same way. The age bracket has been moved upwards; the emphasis, then, needs to be changed.

The names attached to Old Age Pensions and to Aged Men or Women's Homes are pertinent examples of a habit that might well be discarded. Add the implications of poverty usually associated with this type of welfare assistance, and it is easily seen how social morale is lowered. Individuals who cash cheques for old age pensioners tell how recipients literally shrink when the word "old" is used. Inmates of homes called "aged" are often unhappy because of this designation.

Why not drop the official use of the word "old"? Something like "Senior Citizens' Home" would be much more felicitous. It would imply a degree of deserved merit in an elderly inmate being so regarded, for if in the twilight of his years a person requires state assistance nothing derogatory should attach to the aid granted. In all probability he has earned it twice over in the long period of his working citizenship. Old Age Pensions could similarly be given another name; something that connotes social security but removes the taint of both poverty and helplessness.

To be old should never mean that one is a cast-off, without a rightful, respectable place in society simply because of economic reasons. The present attitude is unfair to many worthy folk. They should get a new deal.

Too High Wages Could Cripple Industry

COMPARISONS of British Columbia's industrial wage scales with those of other manufacturing provinces can be viewed with mixed feelings. The fact that those employed in manufacturing occupations are paid at a higher average hourly rate than elsewhere in Canada suggests a desirable degree of provincial prosperity and an enviable standard of living. Undoubtedly these are the conditions prevailing in British Columbia at present. There is, however, a danger that the labor organizations responsible for winning such a high industrial wage level may over-reach themselves in time.

How long can the manufacturers of this province go on paying 15 cents an hour more than Ontario, 26 cents more than Manitoba and 32 cents more than Quebec and still stay in a competitive market? British Columbia has virtually full employment at the moment, but if its upward wage trend continues at a faster rate than the rest of the country it is extremely doubtful if it can maintain that position. What becomes of these attractively high wage scales if they price the province's manufacturers out of business and result in there not being enough jobs to go round?

Higher prices inevitably follow wage increases, and if Eastern manufacturers can land goods in British Columbia cheaper than they can be produced here it will be hard for our own industries to survive. Only this week it was pointed out by the head of a local shipyard that the latest round of wage increases almost certainly would cost the yard several major construction contracts which would have given employment to hundreds of shipyard workers. In other lines, too, there has been evidence of retrenchment as a direct consequence of inordinate wage demands.

Labor unions may think they are doing a service for those they represent, and they may feel proud of what they have achieved in the way of wage standards; but they would do well to pause and think where all this could lead.

Why Should It Be Left to the Women?

REEVE Gibbs of Oak Bay, one municipal official at least who shows some concern about A.R.P. planning, wonders why it should be left to a women's organization to sponsor a meeting here to be addressed by Major-General Worthington, civil defence co-ordinator for Canada. His point is well taken. All credit to the Women's Canadian Club for showing this initiative, but what is the matter with male organizations of the city? Why, in fact, is so important a meeting not backed by Provincial Government officials, who are supposed to be studying civil defence problems?

The role of General Worthington is not now so clear as it might have been. He was appointed two years ago by the Federal Government to whip national civil defence into shape, but when he returned from a visit to Europe pined with ideas about A.R.P. schemes the Cabinet which appointed him threw cold water on his plans. Official apathy has undergone a slight change since then, although it would seem the general is still forced to work under wraps. He is one man who has positive and knowledgeable things to say about civil defence, however, and his visit to this city is important.

That makes it all the more surprising that neither civic nor Provincial circles should evince enough interest to promote the gathering at which he will speak. Women have a part to play in any A.R.P. schemes finally adopted here, but it is a man's job nevertheless and men should not shirk it.

FOR THE TAXPAYER

Sir,—Surely the time is past due when these annual demands for wage increases should be laid aside indefinitely as there is a limit to the patience of an enduring public.

The demands from the city police and other city employees is particularly unwelcome, as their wages must come from the pockets of hard pressed taxpayers who find themselves at the present time victims of the big "squeeze," trying to support a cost of living inflated by the actions of producer, labor unions and management generally.

This latter class travels along on the "receiving end," but large numbers of taxpayers are no longer on a "receiving end."

It would also appear that the city employees with their increases in recent years are getting well paid, having steady employment either in busy periods or quiet.

It is time our council stopped being a "gimme" organization every time city groups or themselves are seeking a handout.

The duty of the council is clear, no more increases to be granted as the capacity of the taxpayers to pay has been strained to the limit long ago.

GEORGE E. B. DYKE

40 Olympic Street, Victoria, B.C.

CONSCRIPTION

Sir,—People the world over must be wondering, and puzzled, over the Government of Canada's attitude towards the matter of manpower, during this peculiar period of economic stress and threat of a world war again.

The Government of Canada—and a minority of people—have never tested in the attempt to set Canada free from any real—or imagined—dictation from Great Britain; in other words to become an independent, and proved, nation. Well, Canada has been of age for quite a long time now; but apparently she still appears to be under the tutelage of some foreign power. The Government still marks time, while the people clamor for a defined flag and a national anthem. What, and whom, is the Government waiting for?—were they not "elected" by the majority?

Is there any special section of the male population of Canada that must be kept in deep freeze for any reason? Is not the Government supposed to administer justice in time of threatened warfare?

With a mixed population, such as Canada now contains, it is inevitable that there must be conscription of manpower, including politically screened D.P.'s, and the great superfluity of manpower puttering around in government-manufactured bureaus. If a country is good enough to live and take refuge in, then it is obvious there is a duty that goes with the privilege.

Under present world conditions the volunteer system is nothing short of criminal, for a government simply sends forth the noblest and finest of the land; and how few return!

This vivid menace of war carries a far graver threat than being just an advantage, or deterrent, to "high finance." The ethics of the white race are in the scales, and the eyes of the world are watching the balance—and the white race is in the minority.

Physical cowardice is a thing to be deplored, but cowardice of the mind is a thing to be deplored under the toga of politics, from whatever source propelled—has no place on it for the stamp of "government" approval.

No one has any doubt but what the manpower of Canada both know and will do its duty, when the Government wakes up.

ELLEN HART

Chippewick Farm, East Sooke, B.C., Victoria, B.C.

Grief

I tell you hopeless grief is passionless.
That only men incredulous of despair,
Half-taught in anguish, through the midnight air

Beat upward to God's throne in loud access
Of shrieking and reproach. Full desertness
In souls, as countries, lieh silent bare,
Under the blanching, vertical eye-glare
Of the absolute heavens. Deep-hearted man, express

Grief for thy dead in silence like to death—
Most like a monumental statue set
In everlasting watch and motionless we
Till itself crumble to the dust beneath.
Touch it: the marble eyelids are not wet;
If it could weep, it could arise and go.

—ELIZABETH BARRETT BROWNING.

No man has ever yet thoroughly mastered the knowledge of himself.

BECAUSE it was on the banks of the Clyde that I first opened my eyes at all things Scottish around the office gravitate to my desk. Most of my heather lore has been garnered in Canada, but I'm (wrongly) supposed to be an expert on Lowland plaids and Highland sporrans.

So I wasn't surprised when the city editor (sporting a Rob Royish tie himself, by the way), handed me this month's issue of Holiday magazine—its title spelt out in Gordon tartan and a fine figure of a pipe-major adorning the outside cover.

An article on Scotland, as you'd guess, was the feature attraction.

It's so long since I left the land of the leal I wouldn't know whether the article is akin to the one Holiday ran on Victoria a year or so back; but it seems to have none of the phony tinge exemplified by that picture of civic officials enjoying a (heinous) traditional afternoon tea at our City Hall.

Perhaps Holiday editors learned a lesson, for this time a native author writes the feature piece, no less than Neil M. Gunn, a leading Scottish novelist. And his prose suggests that he knows his stuff.

One picture of winsome lassies doing the Highland Fling says that while attractive they are about as typical of Scotland as drum-major-ettes of America.

More so, I should say.

On this point, however, listen to Mr. Gunn: "Most Americans, I am told, think of Scotland in terms of kilts, Robbie Burns, bagpipes, tartans, whisky and Scotch penuriousness. This fantastic picture shakes the ordinary Scot with laughter and drives Scots comedians to carry it into the region of pure myth." Harry Lauder, for instance.

And: "The romantic Highlanders of Sir Walter Scott, the Bonnie Prince Charles of glamour, the Ghost that went West, all the high-colored romances of the kind are about as far removed from reality as that other picture of the canny Scot; the dour careful fellow who can only say 'Ay' and look at a penny twice. . . . Most Aberdeen stories are manufactured by the wits in Aberdeen."

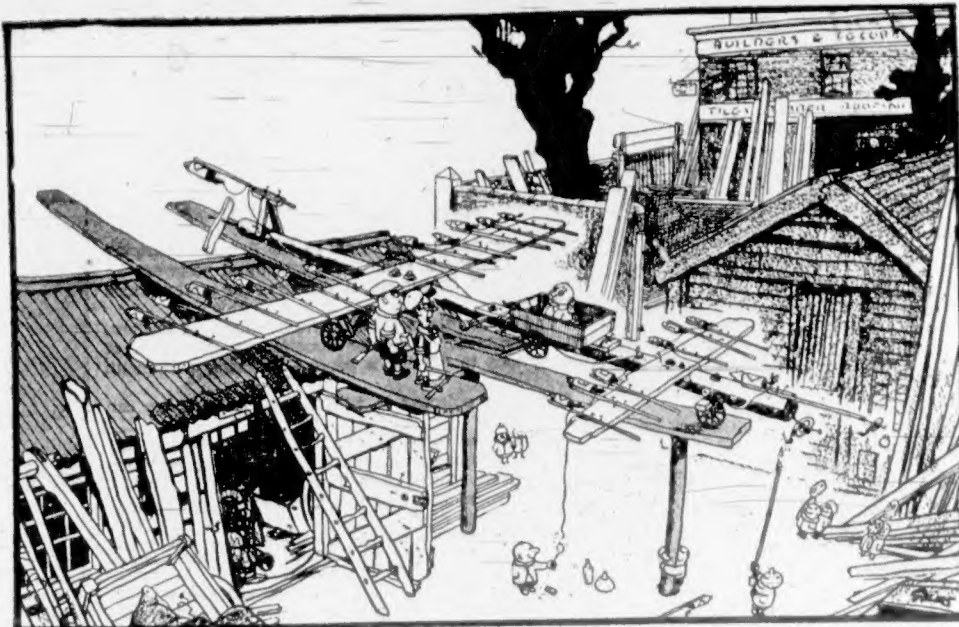

Such as the photograph of that city on a flag (tag) day, which shows all the streets absolutely deserted.

Two glimpses of the Scottish spirit. Apropos the pride of ancient clans: The old chief of the Clan MacNeill rising to his feet after dinner and announcing, "The MacNeill of Barra has dined; the rest of the world can now dine."

Symbols of the tenacious fight for liberty that has marked the Scot since Roman times: The dark hour when Hitler was preparing to rub out England and Scotland in a quick finish to his war, and two old Scots meeting in a country lane. "Ay, man, Sandy," says Donald, "it looks like being a long war." "How that?" asks Sandy. "Because," replies Donald, "I'm hearing that the English are thinking of giving in."

Apocryphal, of course. But the foregoing gives me real hint of Neil Gunn's analysis of his own land, its character and history, written with insight and understanding and in much better prose than usually graces periodicals. As with most American pictorial magazines the Holiday photographs are excellent. Many scenic views of Scotland you run across, especially in calendars, are bleak or drab, but here are color pictures of heath and loch that make you catch your breath.

"Mang-the-Heather" radio fans will glory in this (to them) nostalgic description of Auld Scotia. And quite obviously there is, as author Gunn says, something in the tartan after all.

"We've gone to all this trouble and now you've decided you don't want to go to the moon after all."

Government By Coalition for U.S.

By RAYMOND MOLEY

NEW YORK—A working majority in a legislative body is the number of members associated with one party large enough not only to elect the officers of the body but to carry through a legislative program on which said majority is united. In that sense, the Truman group in the 82nd Congress will not only be far short of a working majority, but hardly will be a majority at all. The fact is that after the preliminaries are over and the two houses elect Democratic officers, the last vestiges of unity among the Democrats will vanish. The coalition of conservatives composed of Northern Republicans and Southern Democrats will be firmly in control.

It is assured that no program even faintly resembling the Truman Deal has a chance of adoption. There can be no repeal of Taft-Hartley, no Brannan plan, no Columbia Valley Authority and no Ewing health insurance. With such a narrow margin anything like a mandate for new ventures in socialization simply does not exist.

There are, however, most important routine matters to be adjusted by compromise and in the face of the world situation vastly important matters of defence and foreign policy to be decided upon and enacted.

The leaders of the Republican minority are firmly established. They are fresh from personal success at the polls. Taft has as clear an endorsement as can be imagined. Milliken is also safe for six years. On the House side, minority leader Martin has received the largest minority in his entire career. Halleck of Indiana likewise received a thumping endorsement from his constituents. Clarence Brown of Ohio, also a power in the House, received the best vote in his long Congressional service.

With these assurances the capacity of the coalition to run things in the forthcoming Congress is going to be very favorable.

With this power goes great responsibility. For the time being, at least until the second session of the new Congress in 1952, it is to be hoped that every effort will be made to adjourn mere matters of partisan advantage. The needs of the country are too great for that. In the Senate, the foreign relations committee must be willing and able to share responsibility for the grave decisions that are to be made.

An even greater responsibility rests upon the President and the members of his Cabinet. After all, this election, so far as it shows anything, has indicated that the voters are not happy about the Administration record so far. People voted for many things, but it is certain that they did not vote for either the domestic or the foreign policies of the President.

In meeting this situation it would be something close to a reckless betrayal of the nation's interests if the President should assume, as he did in the days of the 80th Congress, that his course should be to build up a record on the basis of which to attack his opponents in 1952. The times are too grave for such a program.

The President, as well as the opposition in Congress, will have to learn the ways so often demonstrated in the British Government of government by coalition in a crisis. This does not mean a coalition Cabinet. But it does mean a Cabinet that has the support and confidence of Congress. General Marshall probably can get this. Secretary Acheson certainly cannot. The President must forego personal preferences and readjust his Cabinet according to the new situation. The kind of co-operation essential to government in this situation will be a new experience for the President. But it is an experience that he will have to undergo if he has any conception of the needs of the country in the months and years ahead.

In some remote parts of Korea a man can marry a woman by merely pronouncing a few words and shaking hands in the presence of witnesses. In some parts of North America a few of the inhabitants marry with a different ceremony, and then start shaking their fists.

"How did you make out at the doctor's office? Did he examine your head?" the boss of the shop asked Bill, the Broad Street barber, when he returned from a visit to a physician at lunchtime. "Don't be silly. You know I went to see him about rheumatic pains," Bill retorted. "Come on. Don't keep us in suspense. What did the doctor tell you to do?" the boss continued. "He gave me a prescription to get filled and told me to keep away from the damp as much as possible," Bill explained. "Then how are you going to take a bath if you are supposed to keep away from the damp?" the boss inquired. "In case you really want to know, I shall sit in a dry bathtub and run a vacuum cleaner over myself. Any more questions?" Bill snapped.

"Wrong again," a city school teacher said to one of her pupils who did not know the principal products of British Columbia. "When I know the right answers, you never ask me the right questions," the child complained. . . . The Calgary Albertan commented about the R.C.M.P.: "We have unlimited faith in them as a force, but it must be admitted they are weak on public relations. In fact, there is often a suggestion of contempt for the public. If they do not know, they should be told that they are the servants of the public, paid by the public and, indirectly, are responsible to the public. It is part of their duty to tell the public what they are doing."

Bad Telephone Manners

(From The Calgary Albertan)

ADD to the list of pests the people who call on your telephone and ask "Who's that?" It's the height of impudence and conceit. The answer that ought to be given them would go something like this:

"It's none of your business who I am. Who are you and who do you want to speak with? You started this, and it's up to you to identify yourself first and to state your purpose. Then I'll help you if I can."

Of course, that answer is seldom given, but in the interest of improving telephone manners it should be, every time. A lesson like that would guarantee that the offence would never be repeated.

Fun, Fact and Fiction

A mass movement of Chinese Reds "volunteering" to fight in Korea is the strangest coincidence since John I. Lewis' boys just happened to march spontaneously off the job at the same minute.

Children born during the war, says a counsellor, present behavior problems. Which is about what we expected—they're no better than the other kind.

European artists are telling each other the following obviously fictitious but potentially true joke at the expense of the extreme modernist artist Pablo Picasso: The night porter of the house where Picasso was staying in Paris helped police apprehend a burglar by remembering the man's appearance and then sketching that. Picasso was impressed, so when his place was burgled soon after, he observed the assailant who had bound him with ropes and later did a painting of the man, which he handed to the police. Guided by the sketch, they promptly arrested a horse, a hearse, a pair of old boots and a can opener.

French Favor Any Deal To Avert War's Spread

By KINGSBURY SMITH

PARIS, Nov. 16 (HNS).—French officials and political leaders favor almost any kind of compromise deal with Red China that would avert spread of the Korean war and protect Manchuria's electric power interests on the border.

But the French also are beginning to face the possibility that perhaps the Chinese Communist regime wants no such deal.

Reluctantly, they are giving more serious consideration to the thought that perhaps China's intervention in Korea is part of a Soviet-sponsored plot to delay the building of Western Europe's defense.

They are wondering whether Moscow hopes to accomplish this by keeping American and other United Nations forces committed indefinitely in Korea.

TWO FACTORS

Two factors have caused the French to recognize this possibility: First, the refusal of the Peiping Government to accept the United Nations Security Council's invitation to answer charges that Communist troops have intervened in the Korean war.

Secondly, but of equal importance, the failure of Peiping to show any inclination to be receptive to Western offers to settle the frontier problem diplomatically.

The French are beginning to realize that if the Chinese Communist regime maintains this attitude and continues to pour troops into Korea, the United Nations will be compelled to consider authorizing Gen. Douglas MacArthur to attack Manchuria aeri-

WARN READERS

Leading French newspapers have begun to alert their readers to this possibility.

Thus, Le Monde said the Chinese Communist leaders cannot be "naive" enough to think that they can continue to use Manchuria as a base of operations against United Nations forces in Korea without anything happening to that territory.

"If they persevere in their attitude of eluding all discussion of this subject," Le Monde added, "the United Nations will be obliged to take consequent decision; in other words, to authorize their forces, aerial first of all, to cross the Manchurian frontier."

GRAVE SITUATION

Le Populaire, organ of the French Socialist party, likewise said the Chinese Communist regime's refusal to discuss the situation, "if definite, will be very grave."

In that case, the paper added, "it will be necessary to consider that there is little hope of finding a diplomatic solution and avoiding an extension of the conflict."

L'Espresso said Western diplomats at Lake Success are beginning to ask whether Peiping's attitude does

Stronger, Streamlined Reserves Aim of Canada's Defence Forces

OTTAWA, Nov. 16 (CP).—Canada has put their names on the list of active reserve lists to be called in an emergency.

The air force recently began an overhaul of its supplementary reserve list of about 45,000. It sent letters to 150,000 wartime members of the R.C.A.F., pointing out the need for Canadian preparedness. It said key men would be needed to man new units which would have to be formed quickly in the event of war.

RECRUITS SOUGHT

Greater emphasis is being placed on the reserves as a vital force in Canada's defence plans in an attempt to attract more men, particularly for the undisclosed number of army units, many of whom are admittedly under strength. Defence Minister Brooke Claxton recently instructed Reserve Army commanders to put at least half of their men through training next year.

But, despite their present state, the reserve forces have come a long way since the war. Army reservists, once known as "Saturday night commandos" who trained with little or no equipment, now have World War equipment such as Sherman tanks, Bren and Sten guns and fairly modern transport.

Many of the units have a hard core of war-seasoned officers and men, some of whom have more experience than their regular force counterparts. The air force reservists' 11 squadrons are equipped with Vampire jet fighters and Mitchell bombers, the number unknown. Soon they will get Mustangs as an interim fighter type until new ones come along. Eventually, they will probably be equipped with new jets.

FULL TRAINING

Navy reservists get full navy training at their 21 stations. Many go to sea with Royal Canadian Navy ships for two-week training cruises in summer. In addition, 900 university cadets are taking training at the reserve stations.

Behind the navy force is a retired list of about 5,000 officers who could be recalled, along with an "emergency" list of ex-naval ratings who have volunteered for service in case of war. The latter list, however, is probably not more than 200 at present.

Social Credit Wins at Olds

OLD, Alta., Nov. 16 (CP).—Fred Midtred, a farmer of Mount, Alta., today retained the Olds seat in the Alberta Legislature for the Social Credit Government with an easy victory over Martin Winther of Huxley, Liberal, in a Provincial by-election.

The seat was made vacant by the death last Summer of Norman Cook of Olds, Social Credit member since 1946.

Mr. Midtred's victory leaves the standing in the Alberta Legislature unchanged: Social Credit 51, Liberal 3, C.C.F. 2, Independent, Social Credit 1, Independent 1. Total 57.

Oddities

LYMPNE, England, Nov. 16 (Reuters).—The quick brown fox jumped over the lazy dog. It happened today when hundreds of the East Kent Hunt found the fox sitting by the wall of Lympe Castle.

He jumped over the pack and disappeared in a nearby wood.

ROME, Nov. 16 (AP).—Mario Basioni of Pozzo Magra, father of six daughters, always wanted a son. When he learned his wife had given birth to triplets—all girls—he jumped out the window of his one-story home.

Basioni, uninjured, told friends who rushed to his aid: "This is the saddest day of my life."

CINCINNATI, Nov. 16 (AP).—For eighteen hours Wednesday all of Cincinnati believed—or, at least, the police department didn't catch anybody misbehaving.

The hull—one of the longest crime-free periods within local police jurisdiction—began at 9 p.m. Tuesday and was broken at 3 p.m. Wednesday with the arrest of a man and his wife for jointly stealing a $5 purse from a department store.

"Don't mention it," quipped Detective Chief Glen W. Meria, "you might break the spell."

LONDON, Nov. 16 (AP).—James Stuart, a Scot, expressed concern in the House of Commons today over whether British troops in Korea "have a good supply of good-quality rum."

Amid the laughter of fellow members at such a query by a man from the fount of Scotch whisky, Defence Minister Emanuel Shinwell replied: "A question after my own heart. I will certainly look into it."

Annual Freeze-Up Lull Hits North Bush Flying

PRINCE ALBERT, Sask., Nov. 16 (CP)—Northland bush flying is in its slack season. Pilots are taking an annual vacation while awaiting the freeze-up.

At dozens of remote Northern outposts this last ten days prospectors and settlers have watched pontoon-equipped aircraft swoosh off near-freezing lakes for the last time this year.

Until thick ice covers Northern lakes, many settlements are isolated. Not even emergency flights will be possible.

Here in Prince Albert, mechanics are busy refitting planes with ski-frames being overhauled, air-frames checked and winter flying equipment placed in readiness.

Court Refuses To Enjoin T.L.C. Move

VANCOUVER, Nov. 16 (CP)—The Supreme Court of British Columbia today refused to interfere in a drive by the Trades and Labor Congress to break alleged Communist control of the Civic Workers' Union here.

Mr. Justice H.S. Wood dismissed an application for an injunction to stop the T.L.C.'s operations against Local 28 of the union.

In dismissing the application he said: "The Labor-Progressive Party seems to have control of Local 28."

It was the latest development in the hectic union battle which flared up two weeks ago when the T.L.C. suspended 14 union officials for alleged Communist leanings.

In an unprecedented labor maneuver two weeks ago the T.L.C. suspended 12 executive members, including Acting President Thure Anderson.

Earlier, the T.L.C. banned Secretary Jack Phillips and Business Agent Donald Guise from the 1,500-member local. Carl Berg of Edmonton, president of the T.L.C. of Canada, ordered this suspension.

Court action came about when Berg started to form a new local because the executive board of Local 28 "ignored the moves."

NO LET-UP

Prospectors in the Pre-Cambrian Shield have secured sufficient supplies to last them over the month-long lull in flying. There has been no let-up in prospecting. But many of them, uneasy because no medical aid can reach them in an emergency, eagerly scan the skies for the first ski-plane.

In rare cases, an emergency flight is tried during the in-between season. Last year bush pilots landed at Prince Albert while the North Saskatchewan River was only lightly frozen. The plane's pontoons broke through the thin ice.

MARBOONED

Last year, also, a pilot and a Government forester were marooned at a Northern point by a cold snap which put a clamp on their plane. It took them several days to hack away the ice and free the pontoons so the plane could be pulled onto stronger ice. Then the pair took off, with the pontoons pinch-hitting for skis.

Wins Fame By Push, Not Pull

ELLENSBURG, Wash., Nov. 16 (INS)—Larry Hightower, the walking cowboy, was back at his Ellensburg home tonight after pushing a wheelbarrow 20,340 miles. He started July 4, 1947.

Hightower visited all 48 states, Mexico and Guatemala on his trip. He wore out 20 pairs of shoes, 31 handle grips on the wheelbarrow and more than 1,800 pairs of socks.

GOOD WILL

Calling himself "Washington's Ambassador of Good Will", Hightower carried a Washington State flag along and got the autographs of 15 Governors on it. He slept in the wheelbarrow and sometimes traveled at night, with headlight and tail light powered by a generator.

Hightower, who became 39 today, got the idea of his trip in the bunk house of a dude ranch as he looked at a calendar showing an airplane flying around the world and a wheelbarrow leaning against a barn. He thought a wheelbarrow should have a chance at fame and fortune, too, he said.

The Great War veteran is making plans for a possible trip along the Alaska Highway next Spring. Anyway, neighbors ruminated, he reached fame by push, not pull.

Bob Hope Sues Life Magazine

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 16 (CP)—Comedian Bob Hope today filed a $20,000 damage suit against Life Magazine and radio columnist John Crosby, charging they libeled him by asserting he stole comedian Fred Allen's jokes.

Hope alleged that the November 6 issue of Life, under the title "Seven Deadly Sins of the Air," implied he was guilty of plagiarism, a practice which he said the entertainment industry regards as unethical.

Defending his reputation "as a top comedian" who can stand on his own legs, Hope charged that 5,000,000 copies of the magazine exposed him to ridicule, contempt and hatred, and caused him to be shunned and avoided.

Canadian Tokio Airlift Flights Prove Navigators' Nightmares

TOKIO, Nov. 16 — The Pacific airlift operations of the R.C.A.F.'s 426 Thunderbolt Squadron are a cross between a navigator's dream and nightmare, according to Flight Lieutenant R. E. (Ted) Hatchliffe, D.F.C., of Kingston, Ont., navigation leader of the squadron.

Nothing delights an air force navigator more than the chance to make full use of his complex bag of tricks, and on the Pacific run they do just that. At the same time, seemingly unpredictable winds and bad weather often make the trips a "sweating out" process for the slide rule and sextant boys.

NAVIGATOR BUSY

The long trip, which takes nearly 25 hours flying time between McChord Field and Japan, is done about 95 per cent of the time above cloud, and with long over-water stretches. The men who navigate the big four-engine North Stars use combinations of such aids as Loran week earlier. Stocks at this time. The fantastic pavilion, built by a regency exhibition in the 1921 last year were 175,400,000 bushels. George IV at Brighton is the site of festival of Britain.

ANSWER TO YESTERDAY'S PUZZLE

Uncle Wiggly Story

By Howard Garia

HELPING UNCLE WIGGLY

Standing in the dark woods, after he had taken home the little old lady and her basket of groceries, Cousin Jumper had listened to the calling voice. Once again he heard it call.

"Help! Help! Help!" "I wonder," said Cousin Jumper to himself, "I wonder if that is another little old lady in trouble. If it is I must help her."

Once again, still standing there in the dark, Cousin Jumper listened and heard the call.

"Help! Help! Help!" "I wonder who it is," thought the visiting adventure rabbit from Green Tree Valley. "The voice sounds too big for a little old lady. Perhaps it is a big old lady. Anyhow, I will help and it will be an adventure for me."

Then for the third time Cousin Jumper heard the call.

"Help! Help! Help!" "I am coming! I am coming to help you!" shouted Cousin Jumper. "But who are you and where are you?"

There was no answer for a moment. But Cousin Jumper saw several flashes of light in the darkness. "Oh, ho!" said Cousin Jumper to himself. "It must be a lightning, but who is in trouble and who needs help. I will help toward the flashes of light from the lightning bug and then I can be of help."

Once more there were flashes of light.

"That must be a very big and strong lightning bug," said Cousin Jumper to himself. If he had stopped to think he would have remembered that it was too late in the Fall for lightning bugs to flash.

Once again Cousin Jumper saw the big flashes of light not far from where he was standing in the dark woods. And again he heard the voice calling.

"Help! Help! Help! I am caught by my left hind leg!"

"Who are you and where are you?" shouted Cousin Jumper. "I am your cousin, Wiggly," was the answer.

"Oh, my goodness! Now surprised I am," said Cousin Jumper. "I will come at once to help you, but where are you?"

"Follow the gleam of my flashlight and you will find me," said Uncle Wiggly. "I will keep on flashing my electric torch until you come to help me and take away whoever caught me by my left hind leg."

"Who has caught you, Cousin Wiggly?" asked Cousin Jumper. "That I do not know," replied Mr. Longears. "But it must be some very strong animal for I cannot pull myself loose. Please follow my flashlight and help me."

"I am coming, Cousin Wiggly!" answered the visiting adventure rabbit from Green Tree Valley. "Oh, this is going to be another jolly adventure! First I help the little old lady and next I help my cousin, Wiggly, who is caught by his left hind leg."

Then, following the flashes of light in the dark woods as a sailor follows at sea the gleams of a guiding lighthouse, Cousin Jumper made his way to where poor Uncle Wiggly stood caught fast.

"Oh, Cousin Jumper, I am so glad to see you!" said Uncle Wiggly. "And I am glad to help you," said Cousin Jumper. "Flash your light."

"Flash your light!"

"Flash your light!"

"Flash your light!"

"Flash your light!"

CHAPTER XVIII

Mercy waited in the dark. She made herself a shadow in the dark so that people, looking, would take her for a bush or for a cloud across a star. The stars were out, cold and distant before the moon that would come later.

She pulled her coat around her neck and told herself to wait, wait for the last look around. Wait for the last chore before people took themselves to bed.

A dog came up, unseen, and nosed her hand, and she turned and calmed and felt him to be Rock and held him with her while she waited.

She knew him when he stepped out, knew him by the thin, clean shadow that he was against the shadowed night, and boldness died in her and her legs trembled to run. She said, "Mr. Mack," and heard her voice go no more than a whisper, drowned by the sn-h-h of the spring. "Mr. Mack."

"What's that? Who is it?" Then, lower-voiced, "Oh, hello." "It's Mercy McBee." "I see now. How are you?" "Mr. Mack?" "Yes."

"Could we get away a piece, so's to talk?" He took her arm without answering and led her out from camp down toward the steamboat spring. "It has seemed best not to try to see you, Mercy."

"I wouldn't try to see you but—" "What is it?" "I'm afraid, Mr. Mack. I'm so afraid."

"For God's sake!" he said. Then, "It's probably just your imagination."

"I been tryin' to tell myself that." "Well?" "What kin we do?" "Don't you see I can't do anything."

While she wondered at it, he asked, "Have you thought about marriage, Mercy?" "To who?" "Well—to anyone?"

The voice in her said, "Talk don't seem to be no use. Must be your wife's expectin' you."

He cried out then, cried fierce but soft so that she felt the misery in him. "Mercy! I'm sorry. All I can say is I'm sorry."

He left without patting her, without touching her, without the kiss that she had thought would give her comfort.

She asked herself if she could wrong a boy like Brownie. Curtis Mack didn't go immediately to his tent.

Thinking of her, he hated himself, hated his shabby answering to her need, hated the cheap suggestion that she marry. Curtis Mack had found comfort in hard work and unaccustomed patience with Amanda, after the killing of the Kaw.

It was in the nature of things, he thought, that now, with a better understanding reached between his wife and him, the consequences of misunderstanding should arise. They were coming to adjustment, each trying to keep in mind the other. And he felt fulfilled and knew he loved his wife beyond all women.

Amanda's voice said in the darkness, "I almost went to sleep, Curt." "It's such a grand night out." He sat down and started taking off his shoes.

"You'll have your spruce, I'm thinkin'," the old mountaineer said. "This child's been that way, and it's some, that's what it is."

He was, the Evans thought, about the age of a hill—allow a hundred years one way or the other—and he sat on the ground with the solid ease of a hill, as if he never needed a chair or back-rest for his carcass. Greenwood, his name was, Caleb Greenwood.

"Ain't I right, Cap'n?" There were eight or ten of them squatted around in the Fort Hall yard, outside the dried-mud building that Captain Grant used for office and home.

Captain Grant was the only one who stood. He had England written all over him. He brushed his beard with his hand. "The Hudson's Bay Company never has tried to get a wagon train through," he answered.

Evans asked himself whether he was ready to dislike the man just because he was British. He had been good enough to the train, good enough to be better than you might expect from a Britisher. You could buy flour from him, brought by boat and horse from the Oregon settlements, at twenty dollars a hundred, or horses at from fifteen to twenty-five each.

"Some of you'll get through, and maybe some wagons," the old man said and took the pipe from his mouth.

"We done all right so far," Evans put in. "Shore you did, boy. Ain't quite the whicker of August, and here ye be."

"Well?" "More this child thinks to it." Greenwood said, "more he almost wishes he was trailin' along. Californy way is too lame. Nothin' the whole length of her to test a man. Nothin' to remember 'cept easy gold."

The look of thinking ahead, was on Patch's sharp face. "What did you say they raised in Californy?" "Nothin'. Nothin' 'cept what's set in the ground and whatever chews on grass. She's a soft country, she is, and so sunny a man wonders ain't there ever no weather there. It ain't like Oregon thataway."

V.O.N. Visits Increase

Visits made by nurses of the Victorian Order of Nurses continue to increase. Visits to chronic patients total 1,500 more to date this year than at the same date last year, Miss Marjorie Baird reported at the recent board of management meeting.

The supervisor stressed the ever-growing number of elderly people needing care and accommodation. The total number of visits made by the order during October was 1,502. These included 568 to mothers with new babies, 29 to expectant mothers, 83 to tuberculous cases, 113 to cancer patients, 351 to medical and surgical cases, 178 instructive calls and 610 to chronic patients.

Short talks on V.O.N. work were given to the Monterey P.T.A. and to the Business and Professional Women's Club, and Miss Baird attended the Red Cross Disaster Exercise.

APPOINTMENT

Mr. H. Webster was appointed as representative at the Civil Defence meeting December 4. Mr. E. C. Lewis reported as chairman of the motors' committee, and Mrs. J. Cox gave the report of the Junior V.O.N., announcing a tea to be held in the Douglas Room November 24.

There were five parentcraft classes held in October, with a total attendance of 42; three were taught by the V.O.N., one by Miss M. Williams, and one by Miss D. Noble of the Provincial Department of Health.

Schedule for forthcoming parentcraft classes is as follows: November 20, at 2:00 p.m. in the Rotunda, Jubilee Hospital Maternity Wing, Miss Mary Plunkett will discuss "Baby's Birthday"; November 27, at 2:00 p.m., in the Y.W.C.A., Miss Mary Dunn will discuss "The New Mother and Baby and Their Needs"; December 4, at 2:00 p.m., in the Y.W.C.A., Miss Crickmay and Dr. E. Mahaffey will teach the class on "Normal Development."

Honeymoon in San Francisco

Mr. and Mrs. John McBride Moore, who were married recently in St. John's Church, are now on their honeymoon in San Francisco. The bride is the former Patricia Violet Peck, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Peck, 1012 Vancouver Street, and groom is the son of Dr. and Mrs. John H. Moore, 941 Seaview, Ten Mile Point. Mr. and Mrs. Moore will live in Victoria.

To Address Canadian Club

Mrs. Helen Gordon McPherson will speak to the Women's Canadian Club, Thursday, November 23, in the Empress Ballroom at 2:45 p.m. Her topic is "As Others See Us."

Mrs. McPherson was born in the United States, although her parents were Canadians.

She has lived abroad for many years and has written widely for magazines in Great Britain as well as the United States. Mrs. McPherson has contributed to The Christian Science Monitor and to Canadian magazines.

She is well acquainted with the Canadian West, having lived on a farm near Calgary for some time.

Mrs. McPherson has lectured professionally in the United States on the subject of Canada in an effort to interpret Canada to Americans.

INSTALL MRS. CRAIG

Mrs. H. L. Hewitt presided at the business meeting of the Canadian Daughters' League when Mrs. M. Craig was elected first vice-president and installed by junior past president, Mrs. R. Milburn.

Mrs. J. T. Jones read an article on an inexpensive drug for arthritis. Two Victoria girls, Miss Marilyn Berry and Miss Iris Hill were winners of Canadian Daughters' League bursaries at U.B.C. Evening bridge club will meet at the home of Mrs. J. T. Jones, 1016 Bewdley Avenue on November 23. Next meeting will be Monday, November 27.

Bazaar Friday

Regular meeting of Willows P.T.A. was held in the School Auditorium Tuesday. Mrs. W. E. Burnett reported that the annual bazaar would be held in the auditorium on Friday at 2:45 p.m.

It was decided to give each pupil a treat to celebrate the winning of the Pendray Cup and the V.A.S.C. Trophy by the Willows School at the recent swimming gala.

Mr. E. Costain reminded members that the next meeting will be annual Father's Night.

Mr. Irvine Dawson showed prize winning color slides from the International Photographic Salon.

To Hold Tea

At the monthly meeting of the senior sub-division of the Catholic Women's League it was decided that a tea would be held in the Douglas Room, Hudson's Bay Company, December 11. Proceeds will be used for charity at Christmas.

Congratulations were extended by President Mrs. Seymour Mulochy to Miss J. Madeline Clay on her appointment as fifth vice-president and national convenor at the National Convention of the Catholic Women's League of Canada, in Halifax. An interesting report on her trip was given by Miss Clay.

His Excellency Bishop J. M. Hill, who attended the meeting, lauded the co-operation which had prevailed among the different societies who assisted at the recent bazaar and expressed his appreciation.

British Shoppers Still Hampered By Grocery and Candy Rationing

By KAY REX
Canadian Press Staff Writer

OTTAWA, Nov. 16 (CP)—If you remember war-time struggles with those green-faced ration books then you'll have an idea of problems now facing the British housewife.

Back home after a visit to the United Kingdom one appreciates how easy it is to go into a grocery store and choose foods without calculating "points."

The housewife in the United Kingdom still takes her ration book along when she goes shopping.

FOR EXPORT

Maybe she sometimes gares longingly into shop windows filled with gaily-wrapped candies—sweets of which she can buy only a few ounces every couple of weeks. But she has been told most of these together with woollens, automobiles and other British-made goods are headed for such dollar countries as Canada and the United States. The dollars they bring will be used to import raw materials and the food which eventually will lighten her ration load.

In a three-week tour living in British hotels, it isn't possible to draw a picture of how rationing affects the average woman in her home. But one picks up impressions along the way.

Hotel pamphlets bear brief notices that ration books must be presented if visitors stay five nights or longer.

EGGS SCARCE

Eggs—chiefly powdered—appear infrequently on the average hotel menu although they show in some more often than in others. And it's milk, not cream, in a cup of tea or coffee.

Individual rations permit two fresh eggs weekly per person. Butter and cooking fats also are on the rationed list.

Game foods are not restricted and one often finds such dishes as jagged hare or Welsh rabbit on the menu.

That all-important cup of tea is more precious than ever in Britain. The ration is 14 ounces of tea monthly for each person.

Incidentally, Britons are a bit scornful of the North American "quickie" method of making tea.

"Pouring hot water on those little bags with the strings attached," is the way they describe it.

Even in the lower-priced tea-shops you'll find tea made in the time-honored way. First the loose leaves are put into a heated earthenware tea pot and then boiling hot water is poured over them.

ANNIVERSARY TEA

Sir James and Lady Douglas Chapter, I.O.D.E., will hold a tea this afternoon in the Douglas Room, Hudson's Bay Company, at 3 p.m. The event will mark the anniversary of British Columbia joining the Confederation in Canada.

Pupils of Florence Clough dancing school will entertain.

LONDON (CP)—Tobaccoist Mrs. E. M. Cartwright has asked the London Transport Executive to put back the bus stop outside her shop. "When the stop went, the queues went," said Mrs. Cartwright, "and so did trade worth £300 ($450) a week to me."

Reliance of Canadian Industry On Technical Training Increases

Canadian industry today is relying more and more on graduates of high schools and technical colleges for skilled labor, whether it be artisans or executives. Joseph E. Downey said last night.

Mr. Downey, supervisor of training at H.M.C. Dockyard, was speaking at a dinner meeting of the Victoria "Y" Men's Club in the boardroom of the Y.M.C.A.

Tracing the progress of technical training in Victoria schools, Mr. Downey said that such work had been sparked by private institutions in an effort to include such training in the curricula of high schools and colleges in the United States and Canada.

The idea was so successful in colleges that it spread down the line to high schools.

Industry subscribed to the program. For example, Mr. Downey cited the case of the development of the Douglas DC-3.

Douglas said Mr. Downey wanted a wind tunnel to test its new plane. The cost was $3,000,000, too much for the aircraft firm. It approached California Institute of Technology, which, by putting pressure on the taxpayers, was able to construct a wind-tunnel for $1,000,000. A successful test was made and the students benefited from the program.

The same process is carried out in the high school here. Local industries provide the equipment and trained men guide students in their study of the machinery. A great many skilled men in their own profession sit in on advisory councils for the students.

In the Greater Victoria Apprenticeship Advisory Council, representatives of unions and management are invited to talk about their problems. Top men in the professions are asked what they want future technicians to know. Then the students are taught just what is needed and what they will use.

Songhurst Elected President Of Oak Bay Kiwanis for 1951

A. E. Songhurst was elected president of the Oak Bay Kiwanis Club for the 1951 term at a meeting held last night in the Oak Bay Beach Hotel.

It was one of the most spirited elections ever held by the club and lasted for more than an hour.

Each man was recommended to office by a campaign manager who exploited all the good points of his candidate.

Mr. Songhurst will succeed C. C. Annett as president of the organization.

Of the three men nominated for the post of vice-president, William Young was elected. He defeated Edward Lunney and Robert Hewitt.

Those elected to the board of directors were Robert Ferguson, Alex Baxter, Thomas Moulds, Fred Robinson, Fred Norris, Mr. Lunney and Mr. Hewitt.

A past president of the club, Dr. Roy Johnson, acted as returning officer.

Victoria "Bores" Tourists

"The poor reception Victoria gives the American tourists sends them away within a week, bored to tears," A. W. Ousman said in an address to the Toastmasters' Club No. 38 last night.

Mr. Ousman laid the blame on Victoria's shortage of good entertainment, its "dull and uninteresting" restaurants, and its liquor laws, which, he said, were the result of a minority rule.

"The main tourist slogan for Victoria is a little bit of Old England," Mr. Ousman said. He labeled this slogan a misrepresentation. "Where are the pubs, the theatres and the hotel life?" he asked.

He complimented the Chamber of Commerce on the "fine job" they have done in advertising Victoria but said he believed the actual attractions of the city fail to back up the publicity.

Table-top of the evening was "Freedom of the Press." Discussion was led by Harry Olden. Toastmaster was Percy Wright.

Speakers included Earl Ward, who made his first speech to the club; P. Lammigan, who spoke on the "Lack of Medical Schools;" J. Cruickshank who spoke on "Youth," and Dennis Taylor who gave an address on the "Need for Immediate Rearmament."

Services College Cadets To Attend Church Parade

One hundred and fifty cadets from the Canadian Services College at Royal Roads, headed by the Royal Canadian Navy band from H.M.C.S. Naden, will parade to Metropolitan United Church and St. Andrew's Cathedral at 11 a.m. Sunday. Following the services the cadets will form up and march to the Legislative Buildings, where Captain J. M. Grant, R.C.N. (Ret'd), former commandant of Royal Roads, will take the salute.

The cadets, under the command of Cadet Wing Commander J. Young, will form up at Belleville Street and march off in four flights at 10:15 a.m. From Belleville Street the parade will go along Government to Yates Street, along Yates to Quadra to Metropolitan United Church. One flight, composed of Roman Catholics, will break off at Blanshard Street and go to St. Andrew's Cathedral.

SALUTING BACE

The parade will form up at four squadrons outside the churches after the services and proceed along Quadra to Yates, to Government and Belleville Streets to the Legislative Buildings.

Also on the saluting base will be Group Captain J. B. Millward, commandant of Royal Roads; Lieut.-Col. R. M. Rose, officer commanding the cadet wing; Lieut.-Cmdr. E. M. Chadwick, executive officer at Royal Roads; Lieut. T. W. Wall, Captain G. G. Brown, R.C.I.C.; Lieut. F. Campbell and Plt.-Lieut. W. A. Deane of the R.C.A.F.

Today's Quotation: "To have driven to have made an effort, to have been true to certain ideals—this alone is worth the struggle."—Sir William Osler Prober for Everyone: Recheck foundations, do not rush into action before you have investigated the details of a proposition. Reconsider before expressing your views and use care in transit.

Look for your birthdate and birthplace below:

March 21 to April 19 (Aries)—Take no unnecessary chances in transit. Don't believe all you see and hear, or make up your mind hastily.

April 20 to May 20 (Taurus)—Be conservative regarding outgo of cash on pleasure or entertainment. Solve problems.

May 21 to June 20 (Gemini)—Accent care, tact in personal contacts. Don't be caught off your guard.

June 21 to July 22 (Cancer)—Have no part of proposals which would tie up your future. Recheck judgment, routes.

July 23 to Aug. 22 (Leo)—Don't let others "talk you into things." Strengthen reserves of energy and money.

Aug. 23 to Sept. 22 (Virgo)—Meet unexpected demands constructively. Exert leadership diplomatically.

Sept. 23 to Oct. 22 (Libra)—Concentrate on the duties nearest you and the tide of events will favor you over the long run.

Oct. 23 to Nov. 21 (Scorpio)—Let all nonbusiness activities go until work is taken care of. Avoid radical expenditures, waste.

Nov. 22 to Dec. 21 (Sagittarius)—Depend upon your own efforts to make the best progress. Protect partnership and mutual interests.

Dec. 22 to Jan. 19 (Capricorn)—Work matters tend to undergo revisions; don't be caught unaware.

Jan. 20 to Feb. 18 (Aquarius)—Pursue a thrifty course; good judgment is a requirement. Don't allow dear ones to spend thoughtlessly.

Feb. 19 to March 20 (Pisces)—Take care of regular duties without expecting much new progress. Safeguard physical well-being.

Planning Ahead—Good for sociability, entertaining, etc.: November 20, 21, 22, 27, 29; December 6, 9, 11, 13, 14, 18.

Coogan Biography Raises Problems

HEARD IN HOLLYWOOD

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS
HOLLYWOOD, Nov. 16 (UPI)—If the life story of Jackie Coogan can be put on the screen, it will be a real "hard" way to see it.

But, says the problem is even though Jackie and mother are both on friendly terms, the mother will take the reasoning of the headline suit brought against her for an accounting of Jackie's enormous fortune. This sensational case was responsible for the California law that a large percentage of minor actors' earnings must be placed in trust.

Lois Irwin, the agent, who has acquired all screen rights for the Coogan story for Jackie, says the problem can be handled to the satisfaction of all. And it happens to know that 20th has the story under consideration.

- 1 Saves 1, 52 or 53 on each album of Records
A single Columbia LP Record costs much less than the regular album containing the same amount of music on several "78 R.P.M." records.
For Example:
South Pacific 18.00 LP 4.85
Frank & Symphony in D Minor 87.25 44.80
Hervé Waltons in D minor 89.90 45.85
- 2 Much Finer Music... Uninterrupted
Now you can enjoy your favorite music... popular or classic... just as the composer meant you to hear it... without awkward changer interruptions. For now you can play Columbia LP Records that bring you 22½ minutes of uninterrupted music on one side of a single record!
- 3 4 Hours of Music From 1 Changer Loading
For a continuous party dancing program... or for an entire morning, afternoon or evening of your favorite music... you merely place your Columbia LP selections on the record-changer and Sparton does the rest. Each record changed quickly and silently... reproduced faithfully.

Coogan Biography Raises Problems

HEARD IN HOLLYWOOD

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS
HOLLYWOOD, Nov. 16 (U.S.P.)—If the life story of Jackie Coogan can be put on the screen, it will be one of the most dramatic biographies ever told.

But just the prospect of even though Jackie and mother are now on friendly terms, it is still a bit of a shock to the imagination of the headline and brought against her for an accounting of Jackie's enormous fortune. This sensational case was responsible for the California law that a large percentage of minor actors' earnings must be placed in trust.

Lou Frain, the agent, who has acquired all screen rights for the Coogan story for Jackie, says the problems can be handled to the satisfaction of all. And it happens to know that 20th has the story under consideration.

WINS "ANGEL" ROLE
Lucille Ball has won out over Paulette Goddard and all the other girls who wanted to play Angel, the elephant girl in Cecil B. de Mille's "The Greatest Show on Earth." The deal was just closed, and the picture is scheduled for release in December. De Mille's production was with a vengeance. It was the deal that was made at the Paramount Theatre in San Francisco Wednesday and early in the morning.

It is believed that the deal was made on the spot. That is, it is believed.

I also know that Jackie and Lou directed Katharine Hepburn in "An Affair to Remember." You like it? Well, direct it for Sir Alexander Korda. "Margot Fonteyn will again do the ballet numbers in the picture." M.G.M. publicist, have put "The story of Lasse" on the stands. Same day the popular poet signed a new contract. He's just completed his sixth starring picture.

RANDOM SNAPSHOTS
John Wayne has an ear aching caused by makeup and his slapping his doctor every day.

Wicker Rooney was barred from the Palladium for Frank de Vol's opening when he walked in wearing a leather jacket.

Dick Powell has been ill with neuritis, and his bride, June Allyson, has been taking care of him.

Big deals for Lasse, Rudd Weatherwax, Lasse's owner and trainer, and John Rothwell.

ROAST ICE (REAM)
OSLO (U.P.)—An exhibition to persuade Norwegians to eat more ice cream was held here. Speakers said annual consumption in Norway is under two quarts per capita compared with nearly 20 quarts in the United States.

When Arlene Dahl marries Les Barker she'll be married in the Lutheran church. One of the several members of her family who are ministers wants the honor of performing the ceremony.

That's all today. See you tomorrow.

Now showing the picture that was made the "hard" way—see it for yourself!

Bad Sportsmen Spoiling Otherwise Good Season

Attracted by the great concentration of ducks for some years, hunters have been out in force on South Vancouver Island every day since the season opened last Saturday morning. Unfortunately, reports of bad sportsmanship have been coming in from various areas.

Anglers Beached

While the stormy weather has been good for hunters, it has kept anglers at home. Best fishing reports of the week come from Victoria, where the waters between the breakwater and the V.M.D. dock have been yielding some excellent sport.

College, Scots In Only Game Set Tomorrow

League-leading Victoria College and Canadian Scottish will be featured in the only Victoria Rugby League game at Morden Park tomorrow afternoon. The game is expected to be a high-scoring affair.

Speaking Briefly

Students of the University of Alberta are in favor of the return of football to the campus in a league embracing Saskatchewan, Manitoba and Ontario. The league would provide a high level of competition for the students.

Roaring Southeast Gale Hits Ladysmith Vessels

LADYSMITH, Nov. 16.—Fishermen reported that $3,000 damage had been caused by a southeast gale which tore away a pile connecting their float to the Government wharf. Two vessels were cast upon the beach, a drift was sustained, and three other craft received damage estimated at $900 when mooring lines broke. The men intend to wage a vigorous campaign for construction of a better float and a permanent breakwater.

GET $318 IN FINES

LADYSMITH.—Constable B. E. Munkley, R.C.M.P., reported to the City Council that $318 in fines had been paid to the city for last month. There have been nine criminal and 13 petty complaints. Stolen property valued at $50, and one automobile had been recovered. There had been no willful Halloween damage.

ASSIST PLAYGROUNDS

LADYSMITH.—J. M. Petrak, supervising principal of Ladysmith School District No. 67, stated that $463 had been collected by children during the pennies for playgrounds drive sponsored by Ladysmith Lions Club. The total set a new record for the district.

SPEAKS TO GROUP

LADYSMITH.—Mrs. G. E. Wootlett, commercial teacher at Ladysmith High School, addressed the Junior Women's Auxiliary on a journey through South Africa, during a meeting in United Church Hall. Mrs. John O. Duncan and Mrs. George Geering were appointed members of the sick visiting committee. Mrs. B. Cowper-Smith was welcomed as a new member by Mrs. Angus Johnson, president. It was decided to invite husbands to the annual Christmas party.

SNOW HITS LOGGING

PARKSVILLE.—A fall of snow nearly eight inches deep on the higher levels curtailed logging operations in Cameron and Nanosco districts. It melted quickly at sea level. First snow at Parksville did not fall until December last year.

REQUEST HOSPITAL

PARKSVILLE.—A plea for construction of an emergency hospital will be made by Parksville and District Chamber of Commerce. Mrs. N. White was appointed chairman of the March of Dimes Committee. Arrangements were made for a contest among school students to select a tourist publicity slogan. It was decided to donate $557 to Parksville Community Society for improvements to the hall and park. A request will be made to village commissioners for a sidewalk between Rushin's Corner and the Rod and Gun Hotel.

NEW COURT HOUSE

NANAIMO.—The new Provincial Government Court House to be erected at Nanaimo will cost about $275,000. Plans are being prepared by Clive Campbell, provincial architect. Construction is expected to start next spring on the new $1,000,000 Boys' Industrial School at Brannan Lake, ten miles north of Nanaimo.

Employment in Nanaimo Said "A Little Tight"

By GORDON FORBES

Colonist Staff Reporter
NANAIMO, Nov. 16.—The employment situation in this city is at present "a little tight." In the words of John T. Carrigan, Nanaimo branch manager of the National Employment Service and the Unemployment Insurance Commission.

Mr. Carrigan explained that it is usual at this time of year for the number of unemployed to increase slightly. In accordance with regulations, he could not release any figures.

"The general picture is good," he said. "There is a great demand for car mechanics and single, female stenographers. There would be no trouble, he explained, in placing anyone in these categories."

WARNS JOB-HUNTERS

But, he warned, "it is not advisable for anybody to come to this district at this time of the year to look for work. There just aren't the openings."

Men in possession of British Columbia coal miners' certificates, the manager said, are needed at Cumberland.

The new pulp mill's bleach plant is expected to be completed soon.

according to Mr. Carrigan, who said this will result in laying off of about 90 men. The shutdown in the logging camps usually comes about the middle of December. Last year Mr. Carrigan's office handled 3,300 claims for unemployment insurance after the camps closed.

"Unemployment this year is a little higher than at the corresponding time last year," he asserted.

LITTLE WORK

Construction work generally tapers off at this time of year, the manager stated. There is lots of unskilled labor around now but little work.

The Nanaimo office has just placed about 25 men for reforestation work in the Great Central Lake area.

Some men also have obtained employment in Christmas-tree cutting and shipping. Representatives of American firms are making deals with farmers who own large stands of Christmas trees. The farmers, or men employed by them, cut the trees and leave them in bundles on the side of the road for trucks to pick up and ship away. This system can be quite profitable to the farmer and extremely so to the Americans.

The plan originated in this district just after the Great War and has continued ever since.

Straith Opens Large New School at Duncan

Photograph shows Hon. William T. Straith, K.C., Provincial Minister of Education, unveiling bronze plaque that marked opening of Cowichan Junior-Senior High School at Duncan on Wednesday afternoon. Modern building cost $650,000. More than 1,000 students and adults attended ceremony. Jean Stevens, Deerholme, Grade 7, is at left, Trustees D. Campbell and D. Peck in background, and Trustee W. J. Long, chairman of board of Cowichan School District No. 66, right.

Suggest Ban on Valley Deer Hunting

PORT ALBERNI, Nov. 16.—Delegation to request the Provincial Game Department to ban deer hunting in Alberni Valley for one year, and send a scientist to make a complete survey of the situation, was made at a meeting of Alberni District Fish and Game Association. Plans were made for the annual banquet in the Canadian Legion Hall on November 25.

PORT ALBERNI.—Trustees of Alberni School District No. 70 will call tenders for reworking Sprout Lake School, which will be reopened.

FUNERAL SERVICES

PORT ALBERNI.—Rev. Glen Stevenson officiated at funeral services for the late Charles Williams, 68, who died last Tuesday. He had been a resident of Alberni Valley for 30 years.

ANNUAL BANQUET

PORT ALBERNI.—Annual banquet of the Port Alberni Golf and Country Club will be held on December 2. Remaining matches will be completed by November 25.

Threat of Epidemic Seen In Suburbs of Nanaimo

NANAIMO, Nov. 16.—Mayor Earl Westwood today expressed concern about the danger of an epidemic in some of the thickly-populated areas just outside the city limits of Nanaimo.

"I am worried about the health aspect," stated the mayor. "In some parts wells and septic tanks are in very close proximity of each other. This is extremely undesirable from a health standpoint."

Without extending the boundaries, he continued, Nanaimo cannot grow or progress. There is no vacant property left in the city proper for home building, and space for other ventures is rapidly being taken up. If these outer areas came in with the city, Mayor Westwood asserted, property values in these parts would increase because, with all the amenities provided, buyers would be attracted more.

"Everyone would have much to gain by extension of the city boundaries," the mayor added.

HONOR STAFF MEMBER

PORT ALBERNI.—On behalf of the City Hall staff, Frank E. Kitto presented Herbert Bradley with a dressing gown. Mr. Bradley resigned from the staff, and plans to live in England.

REACH AGREEMENT

PORT ALBERNI.—An agreement covering wages and working hours of six waitresses has been signed by the management of the Beaufort Cafe and Alberni District Local of the Hotel and Restaurant Workers' Union.

TIMBER FOR SALE

ALBERNI.—An offer from T. E. Hamilton to cut timber on city-owned property will be discussed by plans for the annual tuberculosis seal campaign during a meeting at the home of Miss Ellen Wood. Members will hold a party next Thursday.

LEAVES CITY HALL

PORT ALBERNI.—James Sawyer, a city hall employee since 1948, has accepted the position of cashier and bookkeeper at Nanaimo city hall. He is a member of Port Alberni volunteer fire department, secretary of Alberni District Fall Fair Board, and assistant manager of Alberni Athletics basketball team.

PRESENTS PLAQUE

PORT ALBERNI.—Arthur Francis, a representative of Workmen's Compensation Board, presented Alberni Plywoods, Ltd., with a plaque emblematic of the best safety record for all plywood and millwork plans in the province. H. R. MacMillan Export Co. Ltd., was represented by H. Berryman, production manager.

SEEK PROTECTION

ALBERNI.—The city council has requested R.C.M.P. officers to keep a close watch on city lighting fixtures. Many globes have been broken during the past six months.

ALBERNI.—Ald. J. Trebett said that delay in completion of Helen Street School had been caused by drainage problems which the architects had not foreseen. He reported the school board was prepared to purchase tile from the city for a connection to Arrowmouth Road.

West Coast Navigation Endangered By Logs From Storm-Smashed Booms

MARINE AND TRAVEL NEWS

Recent storms which have lashed the island's rugged West Coast have broken a number of large log booms, according to a report from Kyquoot.

Navigation has been imperilled by the loss of two large booms in waters adjacent to the Chamela Bay logging camp, near Kyquoot. Loggers have been rounding up the logs, but a number are still drifting.

It is also reported that salmon netting operations have ended on the West Coast, but a record number of fish were landed at Kyquoot camps during the season. A much larger fleet of fishing vessels operated in the area than in previous years.

The troller Argyle, owned by Indians of the Kyquoot district, has been added to the list of victims of recent storms. The craft was swept away from a beach on which it had been grounded, then smashed onto nearby rocks. Many of the native fishermen, it is stated, beach their boats at high tide and leave them for considerable lengths of time.

LIGHT OUT

Mariners are advised that Goose Spit light, Comox, is reported out. It will be attended to as soon as possible, reports T. E. Morrison, local Transport Department agent. It is also reported that the Horswell Reef red conical buoy, Departure Bay, is missing. It will be replaced as soon as possible.

SALMON PACK UP

British Columbia's 1950 salmon pack to date totals more than 1,469,615 cases, an increase of 40,483 cases over the corresponding period of last year, according to the chief supervisor of fisheries.

By species the pack to date is as follows: Sockeye, 407,316 cases; spring, 9,068 cases; steelhead, 3,240 cases; bluebacks, 7,370 cases; coho, 105,243 cases; pink, 446,483 cases; and chum, more than 490,893 cases. The totals include commercial fishing districts Nos. 1, 2 and 3. Each case weighs 48 pounds.

It was not immediately known if Berg was aboard the boat.

NEED 20,000 MEN

Canada needs a 20,000-man navy, Cmdr. D. W. Piers, R.C.N., said in Winnipeg.

Cmdr. Piers is director of naval plans and operations in the Department of National Defence.

He said the 40-per cent increase in strength authorized when the Korean war began would bring the navy's manpower to 13,440. But the Canadian Navy was in the big league now and to keep it there would require more men, officers and ships.

Cmdr. Piers spoke to naval reservists here. He is en route to Vancouver.

GILLNET BOAT FOUND

A spokesman for Nelson Brothers Fisheries, Limited, said in Vancouver yesterday that the 30-foot gillnet boat Rupert 54, missing in Georgia Strait with one man on board, has been found.

However, there was no trace of the vessel's lone occupant, Y. Mizuyabu, a Japanese-Canadian.

The Rupert 54 is being towed by a Nelson Brothers tug to False Bay, Lasqueti Island. It was found near the Sisters Light House, off Sisters Island, with only the stem above water.

Digestive Juices Influence One Another

By DR. J. B. WARREN

The digestive juices work together for good health. The way you chew or mix your food in the mouth with the alkaline digestive juice (the saliva) influences the action of the acid digestive juice in the stomach. This, in turn, affects the way the bile and alkaline pancreatic juices will do their work on the food when it enters the small intestine to be absorbed through the walls into the blood.

There seems to be a regulating force working with the various juices, helping each during digestion.

Immigration Prospects Said Best Since War

Prospects for more Europeans coming to settle in Canada look better today than at any time since the end of the war, D. C. E. Smith, Canada's director of immigration and citizenship, disclosed in an interview aboard the liner Empress of Canada which arrived at Montreal last night from Liverpool.

Mr. Smith added that the figure of 150,000 new Canadians yearly announced by him as Canada's goal September 21, before flying overseas, may easily be reached. Italy, Holland and Germany are the three countries most desirous of exporting their surplus population, he said. Currency transfer barriers in all West European countries must be overcome in many cases, and progress in this regard is being made, Mr. Smith added.

France, he said, had no objection to its nationals migrating to this country providing it was on an individual basis and not in the form of mass migration. Opportunity is being made for greater release of funds for those leaving France and Belgium.

Already 7,200 Dutch settlers are being processed for settlement in this country next year, and the general program for bringing out future Canadians will continue as long as Canada's present high standard of economy continues. England is expected to be the greatest contributor to the immigration program, followed by Germany (including D.P.'s there) and Holland. Ocean transport, one of the main hurdles to be overcome in the scheme, is being looked into by the North Atlantic Conference, governing body of steamship passenger traffic on the Atlantic.

Spirit of Neighborly Aid

Christmas Bureau Plans To Miss No Needy Home

The spirit of neighborly aid has replaced the old idea of the lordly benefactor presenting Christmas fare to the humble recipients. Giving in an unostentatious manner preserves the dignity of the person receiving a helping hand and removes the stigma of public charity. Stressing these ideals, the Christmas Bureau of the Community Welfare Council of Victoria is again ready for its drive to assist the less fortunate.

The Christmas Bureau has made arrangements with church groups, service clubs and other city organizations for advance lists of those being assisted. In this way duplications and neglect of anyone in need will be avoided.

Will help others. The bureau will provide consultation and guidance for those wishing to give Christmas cheer. The bureau solicits and will collect and distribute children's books and good used toys. Necessary funds for those not sponsored by other organizations and a confidential name checking will ensure that no one in need is forgotten this Christmas.

Persons wishing to use the services of the Christmas Bureau may do so by communicating with 1234 Pandora Avenue or phoning B5121. Good used toys may be sent to Boy Scout Headquarters, 1034

Shingle Price Leveling Off After Break

Local shingle producers are looking forward to better days as shingle prices show signs of leveling off after a spectacular break in the United States market.

Customers are beginning to buy again, according to one local operator.

United States building has swung from home construction to defence projects. This cut into the shingle market, he said.

"Customers will not buy on a falling market," he continued, and added that the freeing of the Canadian dollar had not helped shingle sales.

Local mills export 80 per cent of their cut to the United States. Summer production, which usually runs to 600 squares per day, has been reduced to a present average of 400 squares per day. Mills here which employ a total of 90 men have been working only three or four days a week for the past month.

SABIE, South Africa (P)—Black mambas, South Africa's most poisonous snakes, infest the country around the electric power station in this Transvaal town. But employees say "mambas are just as afraid of us as we are of them."

Sand Sealing Cracks

Reservoir on Rithet Hill Refilled After Drainage

The Rithet Hill reservoir is now being refilled following drainage and inspection and should again be up to its 7,000,000 gallon capacity by next week, Saanich Municipal Engineer H. D. Dawson said yesterday.

Testing began September 27, when the big basin was kept filled for five days while flaws and leaks were located. Repairs were made after draining.

The reservoir is still losing about 10,000 gallons a day through small fissures in the rock bottom, Mr. Dawson said yesterday. He added that since the loss amounted to only a dollar a day he was not worrying about it.

Cost of the water, bought from the City of Victoria, and pumped by the municipality, is nine cents per thousand gallons delivered to the reservoir.

CHANCE PROVIDED

Ordinarily, such a loss would not be bothered with, he continued, but since testing had afforded the opportunity, fine clay is being mixed into the water slowly as the basin refills.

"This serves two purposes. It discolors the water so we can tell if seepage is coming from the reservoir."

Alleged Hit-Run Driver Near Collapse in Court

In a state of near collapse and covering his face with his hands, a 34-year-old alleged hit-run driver appeared in city police court yesterday to face a charge of failing to remain at the scene of an accident.

He was John Farmer, 1706 Kings Road, who was charged in connection with the traffic death Friday of William Savidge, 80, of 3008 Douglas Street.

Farmer, a slight, nervous man, was on the verge of tears several times as the charge was read. Overcome with intense emotion, he averted his head from a packed court room as his counsel, E. V. Finland, told the court that his client would plead guilty to the charge and asked that bail be set.

Federal Grant To Esquimalt Expected Soon

Relief from carrying taxation-exempt National Defence property may be forthcoming shortly for Esquimalt municipality, Reeve A. I. Thomas said yesterday.

The reeve said he had been assured in an interview with Defence Minister Brooke Claxton that the municipality would receive a grant from the Federal Government.

He understood that Col. Owen Lobley, head of administration of municipal grants regulations under the Appropriations Act 1949, would visit here shortly to survey National Defence properties in Esquimalt, Reeve Thomas said.

Wismar Assails Criticism Of Jails as "Exaggerated"

ATTORNEY-GENERAL Gordon Wismar yesterday termed as "exaggerated" reported criticism in Appeal Court by Mr. Justice C. H. O'Halloran of "crime-breeding" conditions at Oakalla Prison Farm.

Mr. Justice O'Halloran suggested a Royal Commission on provincial jails.

Mr. Wismar stated the appeal judge had apparently failed to take into account Government efforts to improve the provincial penal system and "possibly the judge was not aware of our plans to open a closed Borstal at Oakalla."

Mr. Wismar said the closed Borstal was planned for the purpose of segregating youthful offenders from hardened criminals.

Eight-Year-Old Girl Wins Silver Cup In Rotary's School Gardening Contest

People in the main lobby of the Empress Hotel early yesterday afternoon stopped to look at little Miss Marca Wilson as she struggled to the main doorway. In her small arms she carried a large silver cup, a trophy almost as large as she herself.

The eight-year-old girl had been to the weekly luncheon meeting of the Rotary Club, where winners of the service club's annual garden and canning contest had been honored guests.

For little Miss Wilson it was a great day. The smallest contestant and the youngest, she had captured this first prize. The highly polished trophy reflected her happy smiles.

FORTY ENTRIES

More than 40 pupils from a total of 11 rural schools of the area had entered the contest—the 30th such event staged by the Rotary Club. A large number of the children attended the luncheon meeting.

A student of McTavish Road School, Miss Wilson garnered a total of 92.25 points. Runner-up for top honors was Wilma Goddard of Strawberry Vale School, who totalled 92.5 points. Other main prize winners were: Kenneth Beswick, McTavish Road School, 91.25 points; Carol Steele, Keating School, 91 points; Elaine Bolton, Prospect Lake School, 88.5 points, and Frances Bartholme, Deep Cove School, 88.75 points.

SCHOOLS WIN

The large Rotary Cup, awarded to the school whose pupils captured the highest point total, was presented to the McTavish Road School. The McTavish Cup, awarded for the best display by contestants in the Saanich Fair, went to the Deep Cove School.

Judges in the contest were Miss Antisell Leask and Mrs. Nova Graham, both of the B.C. Electric's home service centre, and E. W. White of the Provincial Department of Agriculture.

James Nimmo, chairman of the special club committee which handles the annual event, explained that through such efforts a better understanding was being promoted between the city and the rural communities. He said the club provided

Dockyard Workers Favor Change of Union Allegiance

A group of dockyard laborers employed by Yarrows Ltd., previously represented by the C.C.I. Marine Workers, Machinists and Boilermakers' Industrial Union, has voted unanimously to transfer its bargaining authority to Local 1204 of the A.F.L. Dock and Shipyard Workers' Union.

This was announced yesterday by William James, consultant coordinator for the International Hod Carriers, Building and Common Laborers' Union (A.F.L.-T.C.L.).

Mr. James said 19 employees had voted in favor of the Dock and Shipyard Workers' Union—a branch of the Hod Carriers—and none for the C.C.I. Marine Workers, in a ballot conducted Wednesday by the Labor Relations Board.

Previously, the union had applied for certification for the laborers. The vote was held in an attempt to settle the dispute.

Complicating the situation is the fact that, while represented by the C.C.I. Marine Workers and Machinists, the laborers had been among those employees who settled some time ago for an eight-cent-an-hour wage increase.

Indications now are that the unions which did not settle then will win increases in the vicinity of 15 cents an hour.

Yesterday, Mr. James said that "when" the new union received certification, it intended to negotiate a new agreement.

So far, Yarrows is the only British Columbia shipyard in which the big international laborers' union has gained a foothold.

Christmas Seals Mailed To 20,000 Homes in City

Twenty thousand Victorians yesterday received letters of appeal from the Soroptimist Club Christmas seal-committee as the annual campaign to raise funds for the prevention of tuberculosis got under way.

"Results have been very good today," a spokesman from campaign headquarters at 748 Broughton Street said last night. Already the addressed envelopes sent out by the Christmas seal campaign-committee had been pouring in with donations from citizens who realize the importance of fighting T.B. in its early stages.

SIMPLE PLEA
The letter sent out by Soroptimists, now in their fourth year of handling the campaign, makes a simple plea.

Last year in Canada, the letter states, 5,800 persons died of tuberculosis and thousands more were admitted to hospital for treatment. When it is realized that no one need die of this disease if it is discovered in time, the waste of human life becomes apparent.

Citizens' contributions today may save a life tomorrow.

Stamps are mailed out in two sheets of 100, for a price of a cent apiece. However, this does not prevent persons who are able to do so, from paying more than is customarily asked.

Cheques should be made payable, the letter advises, to the Christmas Seal Committee, Soroptimist Club of Greater Victoria. When the addressed envelopes, enclosed with the Christmas seal campaign letter are used, it enables committee members to keep records straight. The letter also points out that donations are allowable as income tax deductions and receipts will be sent on request.

MAY CALL

Campaign headquarters said yesterday that anyone who hasn't received a letter of appeal may obtain stamps by calling at Room 14 of the Broughton Street headquarters.

Stamps this year are bright red and green showing three tiny angels singing Christmas hymns. They may be used as stickers on Christmas mail to spread the idea of preventing tuberculosis before it reaches fatal stages.

Mrs. J. V. Kimmit is chairman of the Soroptimist Club Christmas Seal Committee.
